

5 charged with kidnapping

BELLE GLADE - Five persons were arraigned before Judge Don T. Adams Wednesday morning and are now being held by the Palm Beach County Sheriff Department on charges of aggravated assault and kidnapping of a minor.

Bruce Hattton, 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Hattton of Wellington, kidnapped Sunday evening at approximately 9:30, from his Bacon Point Road apartment in Pahokee, was found by sheriff deputies in a closet wearing only underwear.

Hattton was found Tuesday night, tied up in a closet, blindfold, with tape over his eyes at the home of Mrs. Donna Lovett, 28, of 3050 Windward Lane, Lantana. Hattton had been in the closet for approximately 48 hours.

Arraigned before Judge Adams' and placed under a $500,000 bond were Alfred Meeks, 31, of 811 Forest Hill Blvd., West Palm Beach, Raymond D. Alpine, 27, of 2645 Saranac St., West Palm Beach, Angela Karen Dunnaway, 34, of 294 N.E. 24th St., Belle Glade, Kelly Wade, 24, of 4261 Miss. Piny Rd., West Palm Beach and Mrs. Lovett.

Meeks and Lovett, former residents of Belle Glade, although appointed a court attorney for the arraignment, Judge Adams said they were not eligible for a court appointed attorney for future hearings.

Wade, Dunnaway, and Alpine will all be presented at the bond hearing by Public Defender, Bruce Smith.

The five suspects had demanded a ransom of $200,000 from John Hattton for the return of his son.

Prior to the arrests Hattton had received four telephone calls from the suspects, but had not received any information on where to deliver the $200,000 ransom, officials said.

With information gathered from within the kidnapping group, the Palm Beach County Sheriff Department and the FBI was able to locate young Hattton.

While making the arrests, agents said Meeks was found in a hallway of the house, and he tried going for a gun, but was stopped.

Alpine was found unharmed in the closet with Hattton.

Goforth and Grear win. George Goforth, Jr. and William "Bill" Grear were elected North and West Borough Commissioners, respectively in a run-off election held Tuesday.

Among the many persons on hand for the election returns were Mrs. Goforth, Mrs. Grear and William Grear, III.

Goforth, Grear win run-off election

BELLE GLADE - Political newcomer George Goforth, Jr., defeated Incumbent Commissioner Dorothy Walker, for the North Borough city commission seat and Former mayor and commissioner William "Bill" Grear, narrowly defeated Daniel L. Whitwood, for the West Borough seat in a run-off election held Tuesday, Sept. 22.

Goforth, the owner of G & G Radiator Shop, received 1,226 of the 2,496 votes cast. Goforth defeated Walker by a margin of 44 votes. Walker received 1,182 votes with ten of those absentees.

Before City Clerk, June Boglioli could announce the results to a large crowd gathered at the Belle Glade Fire Department, Walker having overlooked the tally sheet being prepared by City Attorney John Baker, congratulated Goforth on the win and told her many supporters she had lost.

Immediately after Mrs. Boglioli announced the results, Goforth said he was glad the election was over and gave thanks to his many supporters.

"I won because of a lot of people doing a lot of work. It was a combine effort by the people who supported me and they should be given the credit," said Goforth. After last week's election in which Walker received 1,013 votes to Goforth 548 votes, Goforth said, he got out and did more foot work and made more personal contacts with the citizens of the community.

"I expected the race to be close. I commend Dorothy and her supporters for a good, tough, fight," said Goforth.

In the Sept. 15 election, Walker only needed 11 votes to keep from going into a run-off.

Following the election, members of the Glades Citizens in Action, protested that there was a discrepancy between the total ballots cast in the election and the votes cast in the East Borough race.

Calvin Darville, presented the protest to the City Canvassing Board and asked that the ballots be taken

Pahokee citizens comment on millage

By JEFF BROWN

PAHOKEE - The Pahokee City Council Tuesday night heard citizen input on the city property tax millage rate, and decided to hold another workshop in an attempt to lower the rate before finalizing the budget.

Council Chairman George Rashley told the group of citizens gathered at the public hearing that the council will attempt to lower the 6.5 millage rate to 5.5.

"I don't know whether we can get it to five and a half," he said. "This is a bare bones budget as far as I can see."

A group of about 75 citizens attended the hearing to air their views on the combination of government action and inaction which resulted in tax increases of up to 200 per cent.

The county reappraised property in the city, and the property values in the area increased an average of 65 per cent, according to Rebecca Walker, county appraiser.

At the same time, the city's tax base was lowered due to the increase in Homestead and other exemptions.

Instead of rolling back tax rates with the increased assessed valuation in the city, the council has decided to retain the current 6.5 millage rate.

Many land owners told the council that this created an inequitable situation.

"We don't mind paying our fair share," one pro-

Lawsuit filed against authority

By JEFF BROWN

PAHOKEE - The Pahokee Housing Authority will be removing recreational items from playgrounds due to a recent lawsuit, and a resolution recently adopted by the board will result in a loss of revenues.

The lawsuit is the result of an incident six months ago when a child was allegedly harmed while using a sliding board in an authority run playground, Randall J. Mills, PHA manager, told the commission Thursday, September 17.

According to Mills, an investigation found that a sliding board was dismantled and the trough left lying in the playground while the board's steps were repaired.

The trough was removed from the site, but reappeared after Christmas in bad condition.

Children propped the trough up against some monkey bars for use, and one child injured him or herself on the damaged board, according to Mills.

The suit was delayed because of a law prohibiting the filing of legal suits against a government or its agencies until a six month time period has elapsed, according to Mills.

Mills said he will have the playground equipment removed from all sites operated by the authority.

"We have to remove all our playground equipment because these lawsuits are just going to kill us," said Elisha Baines, vice-chairman.

"Swings, sliding boards and merry-go-rounds have just about been eliminated by the insurance companies," added commissioner Murray T. Brinson.

"What they're (insurance companies) saying is, if you're going to have something like that, you have to have supervision," said Michael Staudard, PHA attorney.

Resolution 225, adopted by the commission at the meeting, raises the utility allowance to be deducted from the gross monthly rent of housing authority tenants.

The resolution was adopted to comply with standards set by the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

It raises the amount to be deducted from the rent of a zero to one-bedroom unit from $15 to $17. Tenants in a two-bedroom unit will have $24 deducted from their rent, an increase of $5.

The deduction for three bedroom units will be increased from $22 to $31, and the deduction for four, five and six bedroom units will be upped to $39 from the current $25.

The new allowances will be effective October 1. Resolution 226, also adopted to comply with HUD standards, raises the maximum rent the authority can collect for a unit from $200 to $215. This will help offset some of the loss incurred through Resolution 225, according to Mills.

Mills informed the commissioners that he was taking action to evict a tenant for non-payment of rent. This will be the second eviction in four years, he said.

"I think it speaks a lot of our collection policies and our tenants that we've only had one eviction in four years," Mills told the board. "We're here to house people, not put them out of housing."

"I think that's a remarkable record," said Baines.

In other action, the board passed a resolution commending Elizabeth Rizer who recently left her position as PHA accountant.

Mills also announced that PHA Board of Commissioners chairman Mend Maxwell was reappointed to the board for a four-year term.

In short

PBA dedication set Friday

The Belle Glade Police Benevolent Association will dedicate its clubhouse Friday, Sept. 25, between 5 and 8 p.m. The clubhouse is located at Jaycee Ballpark, off Canal Street.

The clubhouse will be dedicated to the late Detective Tim Corderman, who died of cancer in 1979. Det. Corderman's parents, who live in Goulds, Fla., have been invited to the ribbon cutting and barbecue, along with local dignitaries and businessmen.

Local police officers have worked on the building in their off-duty hours over the past weeks to renovate the clubhouse for the dedication. Many local businesses have contributed supplies or donations to the project.

Nursing program set

West Technical Training Center is starting a second licensed practical nursing program.

The new 1,314 program is identical to the existing program, except that it will be an afternoon-evening course, said Juanita Lampl.

Registration is currently underway. The course begins Nov. 2. An instructor is being sought for the course.

to Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections Jackie Winchester in West Palm Beach for a recount.

"There were a total of 2,154 ballots issued in the election. The highest number of votes cast according to the unofficial results were 2,047. There is a discrepancy of 107 votes unaccounted for. This can be explained in numerous ways. However, until you are able to program a machine to accurately determine the reason for this discrepancy, there will be a cloud over the election results," said Darville.

Mayor Thomas Altman told Darville he did not think a machine could be programmed to give that information.

The recount of the votes in West Palm Beach showed no change, but did answer Darville's question of how many persons voted in each race.

The recount showed that 93 persons did not vote for any candidate in the East Borough race, while 17 voted for more than one candidate and the ballot was invalidated for that race.

Darville said he was satisfied with the results of the recount and the recent results demonstrated the need to educate voters on the use of the Votomatic machines.

Grear defeated Bythwood by a margin of eight votes. Bythwood received 1,176 votes and Grear received 1,184 votes. Not counting the absentees, Bythwood beat Grear by 16 votes, however with Grear receiving 32 absentee votes and Bythwood only five, Grear was announced the victor.

Grear said he will be looking to Bythwood for support and suggestions.

"I commend Bythwood for a good clean race. This was the hardest race for me and I wish to thank my many supporters," said Grear.

"While going door to door, I found I had lost touch with many of the citizens of the community," Grear added.

"I must get back in touch with the public again and get their ideas as to what they want," he added.

A total of 2,408 votes were cast in the East Borough, 2,360 in the West Borough and 38 absentee votes.

Three hundred and seventy more persons voted in the run-off election than last Tuesday's election, but the total number of persons voting in run-off election constitutes less than half of the city's registered voters. There are approximately 4,955 persons registered to vote in the city.

The City Canvassing Board was expected to declare the results of the run-off election are correct, and that the election was conducted fairly and without fraud, Wednesday evening.

A TRACTOR-trailer rolled over in the accident, injuring a Miami man.

3 injured in smashup

An accident on U.S. 27, seven miles south of So. Bay about 5 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 22, has left three persons injured, according to a spokesman for the Florida Highway Patrol.

Among those injured were Maria Angeles Alfonso, 24, of 517 S. E. 2nd St., Belle Glade, Magda Rothman, 26, of 505 N. E. 3rd St., Belle Glade, and Jacques Deshommes, 41, of Miami.

According to a report filed by Trooper C. E. Floyd, the two women were northbound on U.S. 27 in a 1980 AMC, when Ms. Alfonso slammed on brakes to avoid another car stopped in the road. The car skidded into the south-bound lane and collided with a 1971 Dodge driven by Joseph Warren Ludlum, 24, of South Bay.

A 1974 Mack tractor, driven by Deshommes, also hit the AMC and then turned over.

Charges are pending.

TWO Belle Glade women were injured in a three-vehicle accident Tuesday afternoon on U. S. 27 just south of the Okeelanta Sugar Mill.

party owner told the council. "I want to pay my share, but I want them (exempted land owners) to pay their share too."

"On the coast, my house might be worth 50 per cent more (than the assessed value)," Murray T. Brinson said. "Here, I don't think I can sell it for the assessed value. As far as the county is concerned, I think they've gone nuts."

"Come out to the office and fill out a review form and we'll be happy to review it," said Jim Packwood, a county property appraiser.

"It's a combination of millage and assessment," Brinson said. "I'm not complaining about the assessment and I don't think a lot of people here are, because like the lady (Walker) says, they probably haven't been kept up to date. I question what you're (city council) going to do with that extra increase."

"You're going to get better streets, I guarantee you that," said councilman Hugo Rainer.

"Inflation is the only thing I can figure out (to account for the increase in the budget)," said Rashley.

"I would like to ask the council to take the budget back and cut it deeper," said Randall Mills. "The only people who are paying for the increase for services are the people who own property."

If the millage rate remains at 6.5, it will generate about $110,000 more than last year. The added revenues are to be used for salary increases, a city manager if the town adopts the necessary changes to hire one, incinerator repair and inflation.

"As long as inflation stays with us, you'll have this problem," said councilman George Tillis. "Things are going to go up."

"Have your utilities gone up?" asked councilman Jon Mock. "Has the gas for your car gone up? How many people do you know that haven't gotten a pay raise?"

During the regular meeting, the council decided to post signs prohibiting trucks and buses from parking in an area on Main Street. The Florida Department of Transportation had informed the council that it could not enforce such signs.

"How can we tell them they can't do this when we can't tell them they can't do this?" asked Mock.

"There's a place down there for them to park, but they aren't using it," said Rashley.

"I don't see any potential liability," said Michael Staudard, attorney. "You're subject to liability, but it would probably be a rare situation. But you never know."

The council also heard a report from the engineer who selected paint colors for the lime storage silo.

LP conversion center open

A fully equipped LP-Gas conversion center is now open in Belle Glade. Conversion Centers of America, Inc. is unique because its entire operation involves the installation and service of LP-Gas conversion systems on commercial, municipal and private vehicles.

Use of LP-Gas, which is also called propane, is gaining momentum in South Florida. Owners of municipal and fleet vehicles can absorb the initial cost of conversion through a number of long term savings. By switching to propane, fuel costs are lower; engine life is extended; engine performance improves and fuel pilferage is virtually nonexistent.

Clean-burning propane has environmental advantages. Air pollution is substantially reduced. Propane exhausts contain less hydrocarbons, nitrous oxide and carbon monoxide than gasoline exhausts.

Chip Lewis is manager of the center. He has been a life-long resident of Belle Glade. Chip reports that two types of conversion systems are available for installation: "One system converts a vehicle to propane use only. The 'dual-fuel' system allows the operator, to change from propane to gasoline by simply flipping a switch on the dashboard."

Conversion Centers of America, Inc. is registered as a certified installer with the National LP-Gas Association. The certification is given only to installers who use approved equipment and follow all codes and standards for safe installations, according to state and federal regulations. A locally manufactured conversion system is being used.

LP-Gas is readily available in South Florida. The Florida LP-Gas Association publishes an annual directory with the location of all LP-Gas filling stations. Establishments with numerous vehicles can have propane storage and dispensing facilities installed on their premises at little or no cost to the owner.

Conversion Centers of America, Inc. is located at 700 Northwest Avenue L in Belle Glade. For more information call 996-0149.

Hospital costs fluctuate

Your doctor has informed you that you must enter the hospital for tests or even treatment. It may be a lengthy stay.

What do you do?

Enter the local hospital and undergo the necessary tests or treatment, right?

Not necessarily. According to the Florida Hospital Cost Containment Board, you should shop around for the best buy. Some hospitals, you see, charge more than others.

Fine, but how do you find out which hospitals are, shall we say, more reasonable than others? Well, once again those folks at the HCCB are prepared to aid us in the hour of our direst straits.

The HCCB has published 13 different regional versions of a leaflet titled "What You Should Know About Hospital Costs."

According to the leaflet, the two local hospitals, Everglades Memorial and Glades General, are among the lowest in the region.

Glades General Hospital, at $124, charges the lowest average cost per day of any other hospital in the area.

It also charges lower than Everglades Memorial for emergency room facilities: $22 and $25 respectively.

In almost all other areas and services, Everglades Memorial charges less than Glades General.

A semi-private room in Everglades Memorial costs $86, $9 less than in Glades General. If you need surgery, one hour in an operating in Glades General will run $270. In Everglades Memorial, it will cost $153.

A urinalysis will cost $10 in Everglades Memorial, $4 less than in Glades General, according to the board. A chest x-ray with two views will cost $23 in Everglades Memorial, $36 in Glades General. Glades General average daily cost of $124 makes it the lowest priced general hospital in the region, and the $229 charged by Everglades Memorial makes it third lowest behind Bethesda Memorial, which charges $224.

The officers of the HCCB recommended that consumers shop for the hospital that best suits their needs.

CPAC meets

BELLE GLADE-Members of the Citizen Planning Advisory Committee (CPAC) elected its new officers for the 1981-82 at the first fall CPAC meeting held Sept. 17.

Officers elected were Mrs. Juanita Malone, chairperson; Pedro Gonzalez, vice-chairperson and Mrs. Mary Orensigen, secretary.

Mrs. Joan Whitlock, a new appointed member of the Committee was introduced and welcomed to the committee.

Planning and Community Development Director, Remar Harvin, informed the committee on the current status of the rehabilitation and relocation of homes.

Harvin said, there is no rehabilitation work underway, however CDD staff plans to rehabilitate five cases during the year.

He also said the six relocation homes that were under contract have now been completed and the staff will do two relocation cases during the year.

In other business before the CPAC:

Unlikely feminists

As the father of a little girl, I have become more of an avowed feminist over the past seven years than I ever thought possible.

Now, I don't mean that I support the Equal Rights Amendment because there are some things in there that scare me silly.

Besides there are other feminists around these days, such as Ronald Reagan and Strom Thurmond, and I'll allude to them a little later on.

I believe that women should have the right to take advantage of any of the opportunities that our society offers.

You may feel the same way about your little girl that I feel about mine. Whatever she wants to be-Olympic athlete, Miss America, or President of the United States-she should be able to strive for.

For this reason, I was pleased to see that Sandra Day O'Connor Monday achieved a historic first in being the first woman confirmed as an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

Those other feminists that I mentioned earlier played central roles in this historic event.

Ronald Reagan nominated Judge O'Connor and Strom Thurmond, chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, said "This is truly a historic occasion," in leading off a series of 22 speeches praising Reagan's first Supreme Court appointment.

There was a lot of hoopla when the appointment was first announced, but when the Senate got down to brass tacks, O'Connor received 98 of 100 votes to confirm her appointment.

The only senator who didn't vote for her was out West, attending another conference.

I think that Reagan made an excellent choice in O'Connor.

The first woman, regardless of who she might be, appointed to the Supreme Court was bound to receive the full glare of media attention. O'Connor handled it well.

It's incredible that man have been able to control the Supreme Court for almost 200 years. But then you have to consider that women have been able to vote less than a century, and that is incredible too.

I'm pleased that women have been accorded a seat on the nation's highest judicial bench in my lifetime.

I'll have to confess, however, that I'm looking forward to the day when we get to the point that the first woman this or that is no longer news.

With O'Connor's appointment, we brought ourselves a little bit closer to that reality.

Saving lives

We witnessed the aftermath of a serious accident on State Road 80 Tuesday afternoon which made us think.

A woman been badly injured in a collision with a truck hauling a bulldozer. One side of her car had been ripped open in the crash and she had been thrown to the ground with multiple injuries.

An ambulance crew from Glades General Hospital soon arrived on the scene and began assessing the injuries and stabilizing the condition of the patient.

The crew worked quickly, calmly, and professionally to save the life of the victim, who seemed conscious throughout the ordeal.

They showed compassion and concern from the time they arrived on the scene until they loaded the patient onto a Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department helicopter for the flight to Glades General Hospital.

We were impressed by the performance of these life savers. And just for the record, their names are Karen Shellenberger, Jack McCarth, Sharon Ullery, and Don Manger.

We don't always think about or appreciate our emergency medical technicians and paramedics. It is reassuring to know that our area is served by such dedicated professionals.

History of the Everglades

Taken from Herald-Observer issues

20 YEARS AGO GLADES OBSERVER SEPTEMBER 14, 1961

Agricultural Insecticide Company, Inc. of Belle Glade opened their No. 2 store in Pahokee. The store handled a complete line of seeds, feeds and farmers hardware.

The Corla Gables F.H.A. office announced approval of Parkview Manor subdivision in Pahokee, known as the "Orange Grove." Several homes had already been sold, and the construction was expected to begin within three weeks.

The $13 million sugar mill to be built at Belle Glade was the second biggest new industry announced during the month of August by the Florida Development Commission.

The new sugar mill, to be built by Florida Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative, a local organization, was scheduled to open in Dec. 1962 and was to employ approximately 1,000 people.

The Pahokee City Council was asked to consider the possibility of extending city water mains to serve the new subdivision being built in Canal Point.

The council also approved the plan submitted by Florida Power and Light Co. for rebuilding the power lines along Bacon Point Road from the Baptist Church to the city park when the road is widened and sidewalks built.

30 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES OBSERVER SEPTEMBER 14, 1951

Whenever you begin to feel as if your vote doesn't count, think on this: In the 1951 city commission race, the seating of three newly-elected city commissioners and naming of a mayor were postponed in Belle Glade when an admitted illegal vote was cast in the municipal election that resulted in one post being invalidated.

Alfred Meeks was elected president of the Pahokee High School Class of 1952 at a meeting of members of the Senior Class.

With one road project completed, residents of the Everglades could look forward to improvement of two other highways that form a part of the Palm Beach County network of roads.

Chairman of the County Commission Paul Rardin said the State Road Department was scheduled to let the contract for improvement of Bolles Canal Road.

Rardin also reported that Rubin Construction Company started resurfacing a stretch of road between Twenty Mile Bend and Six Mile Bridge.

40 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS SEPTEMBER 19, 1941

A quarter of a million dollar Glades land deal was completed by C.A. Bailey, a Pahokee realtor, for the purchase of 6,000 acres lying north of the St. Lucie canal and fronting on Conner's Highway for a distance of five miles.

The Farm Security administration purchased the land from the Beesemer Properties corporation and G.H. Tucker. Total acreage in the deal amounted to 9,209 acres.

The Farm Security administration was to provide a co-operative farming project for 150 low income families. In addition to farming, these families were to raise livestock and dairy cattle.

At the executive board meeting of the South Bay Parent-Teachers Association the year's program of work was planned and plans were made for the annual teachers reception. Mrs. F.W. Mutchler and Mrs. Laura Wilkie were appointed on the entertainment committee and Mrs. Leslie Ellison was in charge of the hospitality committee.

50 YEARS AGO THE EVERGLADES NEWS SEPTEMBER 18, 1931

Executives of the new sugar company management in Canal Point authorized construction of a tractor shed and minor repairs.

Assets of the United States Sugar Corporation, which were to take over the Southern Sugar Company, were listed as totaling approximately $14,000,000.

How to induce painting of houses and improvement of grounds was discussed at the regular Friday luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Rotary Club following a report by President W.P. Jernigan, Jr., in which he quoted a woman as saying there was no incentive to her to keep her place in good order when neighbors' houses were unpainted and the grounds weedy.

The "hobo express" had resumed its schedule of runs on the east coast, a fleet of trucks operated by the sheriffs of Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties to carry non-resident unemployed persons, men, women and children, from one county line to the other on their way to the state boundary.

R.D. Hawkins suffered painful injuries to his foot and leg in an accident with his Fordson tractor.

Word had been received that Mr. and Mrs. Iva Van Horn, who spent the spring with Mrs. Van Horn's parents in Clewiston were getting along nicely in their new location at Southport, N.C., where Mr. Van Horn had a position with the Huffman Construction Company at the Cape Fear project.

Drama on SR 80

Woman injured in auto crash

Mrs. Carole Miller Oglesby of 710 Ponce de Leon Ave., Clewiston, was critically injured about 1:15 p.m. Tuesday, Sept. 22, in a two-vehicle accident on State Road 80, about 10.5 miles east of Belle Glade.

According to Trooper Rick Campbell, Mrs. Oglesby's car, a 1979 AMC Hornet, was east bound when it collided with left front of a tractor trailer, hauling a bull dozer.

The tractor trailer, driven by Ira Allen of 1241 S. W. Ave. E., Belle Glade, had slowed to about 15 m.p.h. to turn onto a Shelton Ranch road.

The left side of Mrs. Oglesby's car was torn away, the car spun around and came to rest on the shoulder of the road. Mrs. Oglesby was ejected onto the shoulder of the road.

A Glades General Hospital ambulance crew responded to the accident and worked on Mrs. Oglesby for about 30 minutes at the scene.

A Palm Beach County Sheriff's Department helicopter flew her to Glades General Hospital for treatment.

Trooper Campbell said late Tuesday that Mrs. Oglesby was reported in critical condition.

The accident is still under investigation and no charges have been filed.

A HELICOPTER from the Palm Beach County Sheriff's department responded to the scene of the crash and airlifted Mrs. Oglesby to Glades General Hospital. The Clewiston resident was injured Tuesday afternoon east of Belle Glade on State Road 80.

LaBelle rings up sixty points as Christian Day drops second game

The score tells it all: 60-0.

The Belle Glade Christian Day Crusaders, trying to rebound from a disappointing 12-6, double overtime loss to Okeechobee two weeks ago, travelled to LaBelle and fell — long and hard.

The Crusaders tried to make it look respectable and trailed only 6-0 at the end of the first period. But in the second quarter, the LaBelle team scored 28 points.

The scoring wasn't over as the LaBelle squad, deciding not to leave well enough alone, put 14 points up on the board in the third quarter and 12 in the last quarter.

Christian Day never managed to put anything on the scoreboard, and rushed for only 86 yards, compared to LaBelle's 479 yards.

Robert Echols was the only real star the Crusaders had in the game. The junior cornerback intercepted one pass, assisted in ten tackles and made one unassisted tackle.

"If you can say anyone had a good game on our team, he's the only one that had a pretty good game," said Crusader Coach Woody Salvatore.

"The first quarter was a good game," said Salvatore. "Then they started platooning on us. The second and third string was just as strong as the first. I think our boys were mentally and physically worn down."

The depth of the LaBelle bench wasn't the only problem, according to Salvatore. "They have a very experienced team," he said. "We have four guys with high school experience. I started three eighth graders and started only two seniors. Our team is mostly an eighth to eleventh grade team."

The team will make some changes in the offensive line when they travel to St. Edwards. That game is scheduled for Saturday at 2 p.m.

"The defensive line is okay personnel wise," Salvatore said. "The offense couldn't keep the ball more than a couple plays."

"We're going back to a school more our size," he added. "We should do a little better."

DIVISION LEADERS in the batting average and home runs categories were given trophies at Airport Park Tuesday night before the start of the Belle Glade Men's softball play-off games. Here, Tim Loster receives the trophy for his B Division leading average of .548. Other winners were Craig Klamb, who batted .652 in the A Division, Gary Bradshaw, who's 11 home runs led the A Division and Ron Pittman, who had five round trippers to lead the B Division.

A PLAQUE WAS DEDICATED to the memory of Jerry Vulgamore Monday night in Airport Park, Belle Glade. Sue Vulgamore, Jerry's mother, is shown in front of the plaque with roses presented to her in the ceremony. Vulgamore, a former softball league standout, died in an automobile accident last year. The Belle Glade Men's League players purchased and presented the plaque and roses.

PIGSKIN PROPHETS 1981

Slim's Fish Camp was the winner of the first week of football forecasting with .11 wins and 1 loss. Lake Hardware also had 11 wins and 1 loss but the tie breaker was the deciding factor with only 1 point difference between them.

Lockhart Ford placed third with a 10-2 record and 47 points on the tie breaker. Carter Chevrolet took the fourth spot with 10 wins and 2 losses and 41 points on the tie breaker.

Glade and Grove Supply was next with 10 wins and 2 losses and 38 points on the tie breaker. Fannie's Place was sixth with a 10-2 record and tie breaker of 28 points.

Everyone else had 3 or more losses, but we are just beginning. There is still plenty of time to get the feel for the season.

This week could prove to be one of the toughest group of games that we have ever had. Watch them closely and Good Luck.

Fighting mosquitoes with DC-3s

By JEFF BROWN

The sun hasn't risen yet.

It's still dark as the car pulls up beside the plane. Two men get themselves and their coffee out of the car and make a few checks on the DC-3. The fans that serve as tube covers are removed and the hatch opened. The pilots and their passengers enter, strap up and are ready to leave.

The plane taxis down the runway, stops at the end of it and the pilot, Howard Barker, and co-pilot, T.R. Wilson, run through their last minute check list. They're ready to go.

The airplane turns, the engines roar, the runway passes underneath, faster, faster, faster. The horizon, seen through the window, disappears, left to the confines of that natural law called gravity.

The passengers barely feel the plane leave the ground. It passes so smoothly from earth to air, that it is only after the pilot banks to make a turn that any real difference is felt.

Barker makes a few passes over Belle Glade, then heads for an area near the country club and lake. He turns to the passenger standing beside him in the cockpit. "I'm going to spray here to make it land over in there," pointing at an area to the left.

They are spraying for mosquitoes. Barker owns and operates Environmental Aviation Services Inc. For about ten years, they have been under contract by county and municipal agencies to keep the mosquito population in check through aerial spraying. Most of the spraying is done in the early morning and late afternoon hours.

As the spray falls through the atmosphere, it kills any mosquito it hits. "If I don't hit him, I don't get him," Barker explains. "Once it hits the ground, that's it. It doesn't have a residual effect."

To kill mosquitoes, Barker uses a formula of a half ounce of Dibrom mixed with one ounce of a diesel fuel solution per acre. This creates about six billion droplets per acre.

"It's like going around the room with an aerosol can," explains Barker. The process, in fact, is called aerosoling.

The spraying is done at 100 feet elevation. According to Barker, all spraying used to be done at ground level by trucks in a process called "fogging."

The trucks would travel down the street leaving a dense smoke behind it. Many automobiles were driven into the fogs in the back of the trucks, the auto drivers unable to see the vehicle ahead because of the dense fog.

"That's how Jayne Mansfield died," says John Stiver, a vector control consultant for Environmental Aviation. "She drove into the back of one of those trucks in New Orleans, isn't that right Howard?"

Another problem with the "fogging" method was that it would travel with the wind. One side of the street may get all of the effects of the fog and the other side none.

"They've been controlling mosquitoes by air since about the end of World War II," says Barker, who has been a pilot for over 20 years. "It saves the town about $24,000 a year to control by air."

The crew is up in the air for about half an hour and the job is done.

The altitude varied between 100 feet, when the actual spraying was done, to 200 feet when the plane was brought out of one spraying run to set up for the next.

This morning, the landing is uneventful. The passengers and pilots feel the slight jolt when the tires touch the runway. The plane is taxied to the area where Barker stores his three DC-3s. No one is there to meet him.

Sometimes, he is met by customs agents.

"I'm an official meter of deputies at airports," jokes Barker. "Everytime you land in this country, someone comes out to see what you're doing. There are so many smugglers."

The sun rose while the plane and its crew were in the air and it's in the process of burning off a morning haze. The cans are placed over the tubes, the pilots and their passengers get in the car and drive off.

"I have to be at least 90 per cent effective before anyone notices," says Barker. "If you have 20 mosquitoes, and I kill only 75 per cent, well five mosquitoes are still going to bother you. If I kill 90 or 95 per cent, well, that one or two won't seem quite so bad."

Once the spray hits the ground, other mosquitoes can move into the area and not be affected by the spraying.

"The larger the area I spray, the longer it lasts," says Barker.

The haze is burned off and the sun is bright. People are starting to move around. For Environmental Aviation Services, the job is done. For now, the town will have to be sprayed again in about four days.

PILOT AND CO-PILOT CONVERSE in-flight over Belle Glade. Howard Barker, left, owns and operates Environmental Aviation Services Inc., the company which handles the aerial mosquito spraying in the county and Belle Glade. T.R. Wilson is the co-pilot, left.

S. MAIN STREET winds its way into Belle Glade. Not much traffic passes up or down the road early Saturday mornings.

Scholarships are available

Applications for scholarships from the South Florida Fair and Exposition, Inc. and the Florida Realtors Educational Foundation are available at the Palm Beach Junior College Central Student Financial Aid Office.

The South Florida Fair and Expositions Scholarships include one $1,000 scholarship; two $500 scholarships and four $250 scholarships, which may be renewed for up to three years, subject to participant performance evaluation by the scholarship committee.

To qualify, applicants must be attending a high school, college, university, or vocational school accredited by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (SACS).

Residents of Palm Beach, Martin, Glades, Hendry, Okeechobee and the north portion of Broward Counties are eligible to participate in this on-going program for the benefit of young people who might not otherwise be able to further their education.

Applicants for the Florida Realtors Educational Foundation Scholarship must be full-time students at any accredited Florida public or private university, college, or community or junior college, who are majoring in or expressing manifest interest in real estate as a major for the academic year for which the scholarship is granted.

Scholarship disbursements will usually be made to the student, not to his school, with amounts to be determined by the Foundation.

Interested persons may pick up applications for these and other scholarships at the PBJC Central Student Financial Aid Office—Room AD-04—or call 439-8061 for further information.

Jehovah's Witnesses to meet in Ft. Myers

BELLE GLADE—The local Spanish congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will join more than 700 other delegates in a convention to hold in Ft. Myers, on Oct. 10 and 11th.

Delegates are expected from West Palm Beach, Lake Worth, Belle Glade, Clewiston, Immokalee, Ft. Myers, Naples and Okeechobee. This will be one of several conventions held in South and Central Florida whose theme will be, "Subjecting ourselves to God." The convention headquarters will be Ft. Myers High School, 2635 Cortez Blvd.

The program will start Saturday, Oct. 10, at 2 p.m. and the public is invited to attend.

Count calories to reduce

Think of food calories as fuel — the fuel that is used to keep you alive, alert and moving.

The American Medical Association's popular pamphlet, "THE HEALTHY APPROACH TO SLIMMING," reminds that if you take in more fuel each day than your body can use, the excess is stored in fat. Most people leading moderately active lives need about 15 calories per day per pound to maintain their weight. So, if you want to stay, say, at 150 pounds, you eat foods containing more than 2,250 calories each day. That's 150 times 15.

But if you're well above your ideal weight, you'll have to cut back calorie intake and use more of the stored fuel. There are approximately 3,500 calories in each pound of stored fat. So to lose one pound a week, consume 500 fewer calories each day.

It is usually unwise to try to lose more than two pounds per week.

WHILE BELLE GLADE SLEEPS, a DC-3 passes overhead, spraying a Dibrom-diesel mixture designed to kill mosquitoes. The town must be sprayed about once every four days.

Harrington named to committee

ANAL POINT—A.R. Harrington, a local farmer, has been appointed a delegate to the Governor's Conference on the Future of Small Farmers. The conference, convened by act of the Florida Legislature, will meet in Ocala on the weekend of Oct. 30.

Lieutenant Gov. Wayne Mixon, selected as chairman of the Conference shortly after the legislation creating the Conference passed last spring. The bill, sponsored by Appropriations Committee Chairman Sen. Jack Gordon (D-Miami), mandates the cooperation of Agriculture Commissioner, Doyle Conner, the Institute for Food and Agricultural Sciences at the University of Florida, Florida Agriculture and Mechanical University and the legislative and executive departments of Florida in planning and conferring. "Agriculture is vital to the continued economic success of the people of our state and the small farm is essential to the stability of the agriculture community," said Mixon. "Governor Graham and I look to this Conference to provide direction to state government in the 1980s relative to our encouragement of the existence and growth of the small farm in our State," Mixon added.

"I am looking forward to the insight and sense of direction that we will receive from the 250 delegates we are asking to the meeting. We will include representatives of all types of small farm operators as well as other agriculture professionals," he said.

Nellie Smith Fashion Show Nov. 28

The annual Nellie Smith Fashion Show will be held this year at the Breakers in Palm Beach on Saturday, Nov. 28, 1981. Invitations are being sent out and the tickets are now on sale for $20. per person. Anyone wishing to receive an invitation is asked to please contact Cherie Crist, 996-4830 - Belle Glade. Tickets will be mailed out as reservations and cards are received. The seating will be done on a first come, first serve basis. Tables will be available for parties of ten and if at all possible, persons making reservations, should turn in all the names and money at one time to avoid seating confusion.

The Nellie Smith Residence for Girls is a non-profit organization. It provides a home of warmth, love and security for a group of teenage girls, who for one reason or another cannot remain in their home.

Recycling figures up

Recycling Company recycled a record 126.4 million pounds of aluminum during the first half of 1981, a 26 percent increase over the same period in 1980.

Contributing to this national record, Florida recycled over 10.5 million pounds of aluminum.

"Monthly collections rose steadily during the first six months of this year and reached the 25.5 million pound level in June," said Paul S. Hayden, vice president and general manager of the Reynolds Metals Company subsidiary. "The June total includes more than 581 million aluminum beverage cans," he said.

"During the January through June period this year," Mr. Hayden said, "The record 126.4 million pounds of aluminum recycled through our nationwide recycling operations, compared with 101 million pounds recycled in the first six months of last year."

Card of Thanks

The Collie family wishes to thank their neighbors, friends and co-workers, for their kindnesses they bestowed upon them, on the death of Mrs. Eva Collie and the hospitalization of their son, Cleveland Collie.

May God bless each of you. Again, many thanks to you all.

Love,
Mr. and Mrs. Hudoll Collie and Family

Thank you

The members of the Greater New Hope Baptist Church, Rev. W.M. Boyer, pastor; Henrietta Allen and Louise Pendergrass, chairladies, would like to extend our thanks to Harma Miller, Pauline Lockett and other program visitors for their support on our Women's Day Program held Sept. 20, 1981.

If it had not been for your support and contributions, we could not have reached our goal to pay off the mortgage payment.

To my co-chairlady, Louise Pendergrass, I would like to express my sincere thanks to you in these words: It's such a joy to know someone as wonderful as you. And it was a joy to have had the opportunity to make our goal come true. You are a very nice person that everyone should know. So keep up the good work for the Lord because your reward is at the end. Wishing you all the happiness and my prayers for future goals.

Disabled Persons Week Oct. 4-10

Palm Beach County is celebrating International Year of Disabled Persons with a week of special activities October 4-10, 1981. At the time of this release, the Board of County Commissioners, as well as the officials of Pahoekes have proclaimed this week "International Year of Disabled Persons Week" in their respective communities.

Activities will begin on Sunday, October 4 at John Prince Park in West Palm Beach with a picnic and games from 11:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. at the Center Drive picnic area. The day will be highlighted with a ground breaking ceremony at 12 noon for a wheelchair fitness course to be built in the park. County Commissioner Dennis Koshler will preside at the groundbreaking ceremony. All employees are invited to attend.

Wednesday, on the West Palm Beach Library lawn, the Music Performance Trust Fund will present John Swan and his Dixieland Jazz Band from 12 noon to 2 p.m. The band music will be interspersed with other entertainment relating to issues concerned with disabled persons.

In addition, County Commissioner Dennis Koshler will attempt maneuvering a wheelchair in the vicinity of the library from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

DeLay Beach will be the scene of Thursday's activity, a Beach Party for mentally handicapped persons from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. Games, awards, and refreshments will highlight the party. It will be held across the street from Sandaway Park in Delray Beach.

Saturday, October 10, will be the final day of activity for the week. It will involve a cruise on the Island Queen for the public and disabled persons and their families and friends. The Island Queen will disembark at 12 p.m. from Phil Foster Park in Riviera Beach.

The public is cordially invited to all events. For further information, please call Cathy Burdett at 364-4420, extension 243.

Sunset Heights receives donation from Charity Club

The Sunset Heights Nursing Home in Belle Glade has received a $100 donation from the Friendly Charity Club No. One. The donation, made in response to a month-old appeal by the home, brings the total received in donations during the drive to $875. "Funds are slow coming in due to the fact that many of the social and community organizations and clubs have not met during the summer months," said Charles Todd, president of the Sunset Heights Nursing Home Board of Directors.

The board made the appeal and sent out letters to various clubs and organizations about a month ago, according to Todd.

"We're hoping other clubs and organizations will join them (Friendly Charity)," he said.

The largest claim in the world weigh close to 500 pounds.

prayer when the Holy Spirit came upon them (Acts 2) sending them forth into the streets of Jerusalem to proclaim the Good News of Jesus Christ. So it was in Jerusalem where the Church of Jesus Christ was first established. It was from there that the church grew and the Gospel of Jesus Christ was carried in all directions.

In 70 A.D. as Jesus said, Jerusalem was destroyed. The Jewish residents were made slaves. But Jewish residents were made slaves. But Jesus also said there would come a time when it would again become a Jewish city. Both the Old and New Testament testify to the fact. But when that happens history will be coming to a countdown. Jerusalem is God's time place. We can look a Jerusalem and get some idea of what time it is on God's clock. That being so, it is later than some people think!

REV. JOE ED MCGAHEY

KEEPING THE FAITH

"Great is the Lord, and greatly to be praised in the city of our God, in the mountain of His holiness. Beautiful for salvation, the joy of the whole earth, is Mount Zion, on the sides of the north, The city of the Great King." Psalm 48:1-2 KJV

The most exciting city in all the world is not the largest city (Mexico City) or even one of the largest, such as New York, Chicago, Tokyo, London or one of the other really large cities in the world. It is Jerusalem because it is in a special way, God's city. I do not mean this is the only city God cares about. God cares about the people that are in every city and therefore about every city.

Now from a human point of view, Jerusalem may not be all that important. Yet, even from a human point of view it has to be important for several reasons. For one thing it has been continuously populated for more than 4,000 years. So it has been a long history and has seen a lot of people come and go. For another thing it has had over thirty wars fought over it. That surely gives it some human importance. But these are not the things that make it the most important and the most exciting city in the world. God has done that. He picked it out long ago to be the center of His dealing with man. This is one reason that Jerusalem is so important not only to the Jews, but also to Christians and members of the Islam faith as well.

God was the one that sent Melchizedek (king of Salem (Jerusalem) and priest of the God most high) out to greet and bless Abraham. (Gen. 14:18-24). God had already chosen Jerusalem to be a place of worship. At that time Jerusalem was on the southern slope of Mount Moriah. Later Abraham would be commanded to take his son, Isaac to a place higher up on the mountain to offer him as a sacrifice. This was a test of Abraham's faith. God prevented the sacrifice. But many years later this would become a place of the Temple, a place that God selected for King Solomon to build a Temple unto God. This is the only right that God ever selected for this purpose. So when the Temple was destroyed by King Nebuchadnezzar and was then later rebuilt after the captivity, it was rebuilt in the same location. It was the rebuilt temple that was remodeled by Herod the Great that was standing there during the ministry of Jesus.

It was also at Jerusalem (outside of the walls of the City) where Jesus was crucified. It was there that He arose from the dead and was seen by the disciples as well as others. It was from the Mt. of Olives (overlooking the Old City) from where He ascended into Heaven. It was in Old Jerusalem the disciples were meeting in

Moody Adams Crusade at First Baptist Church

The Moody Adams Crusade will be in Belle Glade October 2 through October 4.

Moody Adams will be speaking in First Baptist Gym each night. He will lecture on "Armageddon: The Coming Holocaust" Friday, October 2 at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, October 3 at 7:30 p.m., Adams will give a sermon on "Witchcraft, Cults, Demons and Deliverance."

Sunday, October 4, Adams will give the last sermon of the crusade titled "New Signs of the Second Coming." That sermon will be delivered at 8 p.m. Adams has travelled around the world in an attempt to bring Christianity to non-believers.

He has also written 28 books, including "The Witches Are Rising," "Secrets of the Second Coming," "America Is Too Young To Die," and "Space Travel in Bible Prophecy."

In Latin, "hospes" is the single word meaning both host and guest.

Three arrested in shooting

By DEAN HATHFIELD

Three Clewiston men were arrested Sept. 21 in Belle Glade after allegedly taking a shot at a local man who found them burglarizing his van.

Arrested and charged with one count each of auto burglary, armed burglary, aggravated assault with a gun, one count of petty theft, and two counts of grand theft were Anthony Brown, 20, of 513 Louisiana St.; Arthur Lee White, 23, of 204 Harlem Gardens and Oliver Shockley, 19, of Mississippi Street, all of Clewiston.

Brown had been released from jail on $10,000 bond after being charged with the burglary of the Clewiston Winn-Dixie Sept. 11. Shockley is also wanted on three warrants in Monroe County.

In the recent supermarket robbery, Brown and another Clewiston youth, Charles Marvin Askew of 907 Carolina Ave. were charged with the $6,954.49 armed robbery. Clewiston police officers are still investigating the whereabouts of $3,824.49, yet to be recovered.

The Belle Glade arrest makes Brown's fifth this year. He was arrested by Clewiston police in January for retail theft; in August for possession of cannabis; Sept. 10 for carrying a concealed weapon in the vicinity of the Clewiston Inn; and the Winn-Dixie robbery less than two weeks ago.

In the Belle Glade shooting incident, Detective John Carney said the three were arrested on SR 80 at Okeechobee Center by Rick Radford, a Palm Beach County sheriff's deputy.

Radford arrested them a half hour after they had shot at Nathaniel Jones when he caught them burglarizing his van at the loading ramp.

Stolen merchandise in the trio's car also linked the suspects with two auto burglaries Sept. 20 at the El Ranchito on SR 80, said Carney.

All three are still being held in Palm Beach County Jail under $2,600 bond.

Oak is Bureau field person

Kristin Oak is frequently introduced as the "prettiest Farm Bureau field man in Florida" because 22-year-old Kristin is not only pretty, she's the only woman holding a job which has traditionally been for men only.

She's one of eight assistant directors of field services for Florida Farm Bureau — the other seven are men — and only the second woman to hold the post.

Kristin, who makes her home in Clewiston, is the District 8 field man, the communications liaison between the state Farm Bureau office and the seven south Florida counties of Hendry, Glades, Broward, Dade, Collier, and Palm Beach County which is subdivided into Western Palm Beach.

A 1981 graduate of the University of Florida, majoring in animal science with electives in communications, Miss Oak grew up in Naples and Lakeland. She also attended the Baldwin Agricultural College in Tifton, Ga., where she received an associate degree in agriculture.

As a member of a family that has always had horses, Kristin developed an interest in agriculture at an early age and as a younger worker for the Kaplan feed lots in Bartow.

Her own quarterhorse is pastured in Moore Haven, a show horse with numerous trophies and ribbons to her credit who's now a brood mare.

Traveling around the seven counties she serves, Kristin Oak is the personal contact between the Farm Bureau county boards and the state office on such problems as land use, water management, farm safety, the bureau's tire, battery and accessories purchasing plan, and legislative matters affecting agriculture.

She works with the bureau's Young Farmers and Ranchers program and is currently attempting to strengthen the Farm Bureau women's group, charged with explaining the role of agriculture to urban women.

But her bigger job at the moment is helping county bureaus prepare for the state convention Nov. 1-3 in Daytona Beach.

TO THE MOON AND BACK—Paul S. Hayden, vice president and general manager of Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co., appears to be holding a string of beverage cans stretching to the moon and back. The more than one billion pounds of aluminum the company has recycled since 1962 would make a string of cans more than 1.8 billion miles long enough to reach to the moon and back four times.

Gold Coast Gardener

By Gene Joyner
Urban Horticulturist
Palm Beach County

Now that we are getting towards the end of summer it will soon be time to get our fall gardens going and many people each year plant gardens but in some cases are not very successful. Planting a garden is something that must be done very carefully in order to get the desired results and one cannot take a package of seeds and throw it on the ground and expect much to happen.

Garden sites should be selected very carefully and should always be in sunny locations where there is at least half a day or more of sunlight.

These areas should be well drained and free of competition from trees, shrubs and other plants.

The garden should always be put in an area away from buildings that would create shadows since most vegetables would not grow well in shaded areas.

The garden area also needs to be prepared properly by enriching the existing soil with organic materials such as peat moss, manure, composted soil or other types of organic amendments. These need to be worked thoroughly into the upper six inches of soil at least two weeks or more prior to the garden being planted.

The final step in preparing the site is to treat the soil for nematodes, which are microscopic soil-like worms that injure plant roots and cause poor growth and even death. Materials for nematode control are available from local garden supply stores and these are added to the soil and covered. It is necessary, in most cases, to wait at least two weeks after application of these materials before plants or seeds can safely be put into the garden.

Make sure that you select varieties of seeds which are adapted for our area and if in doubt obtain a free Vegetable Gardening Guide from the Cooperative Extension Service office nearest you which give recommended varieties for our area and also planting dates.

Once you have planted your seeds or transplants it is important to give the garden regular attention. Plants must be protected from various insects and diseases on a weekly basis. Many products are available from local garden supply stores for use in gardens and these products are very safe to handle when used as directed.

Watering and fertilizing is also essential to have a successful garden and watering, in particular, must be done frequently enough that plants do not become wilted or stressed.

Mulching will aid in conserving moisture and also reducing weed competition and on small gardens the entire area should be mulched if possible. In very large gardens you may only be able to afford to mulch the rows and the aisles may have to be left bare. Weed competition will probably be one of the bigger problems for most home gardeners and mulching will eliminate a high percentage of this competition if the mulch is deep enough. If you do not mulch the garden plan to weed at least weekly to keep weeds from becoming a serious problem.

You may also have to spray preventively for diseases weekly while insects may be sprayed for on an as-needed basis.

History of Glades tourism to be discussed

A Florida historian and AAA Motor Club executive will review the history of tourism in Florida at the next meeting of the Calusa Valley Historical Society, 8 p.m., Oct. 1 in the fellowship hall of the Community Presbyterian Church in Clewiston.

The speaker will be Hampton Dunn, of Tampa, author of a dozen books on the state's history and senior vice president of the Peninsula Motor Club (AAA).

His topic will be "Ponce de Leon Slept Here - A History of Tourism in Florida." This is the paper that he gave at a recent annual meeting of the Florida Historical Society, as well as before the Historical Societies of Palm Beach and Manatee Counties.

In his talk, Dunn explains that the Spanish explorer Ponce de Leon was Florida's first "tourist," since he was here in 1513 strictly sightseeing (and looking for a "Fountain of Youth") and did not plan to stay.

The impact of the automobile and a highway system on attracting tourists here will be graphically outlined. At one point in his dissertation, the writer recalls "Conners' Highway" in the Lake Okechobee region.

"On the Fourth of July in 1924, a significant highway was dedicated which gave South Florida its first cross-state link," Dunn reports. "It was a toll road built by William James Conners, wealthy land owner and contractor, 'Conners' Highway,' as it was called ran from Okechobee to West Palm Beach and was parallel to the Palm Beach Canal.

"Conners, a Northern capitalist who needed access to his vast Everglades holdings, built his road upon a grade of soft mud and rock. At one point its surface sank 40 feet to hardpan during construction; however, despite such a setback, the 53-mile-long highway was completed in eight months. Its toll gates collected more than $1,000 daily."

Dunn notes that Conners and his wife are credited with being the "real" Maggie and Jiggs of the comic strip produced by newspaper cartoonist George McManus who knew them.

Some of the hardships that faced travelers in the early 1920s are described by the Tampa speaker. He read from a 1922 AAA Blue Book detailing the road conditions between West Palm Beach and Fort Myers via Jupiter, Utopia, Okechobee, Cabbage Bluff Ferry, Palmdale, Hall City, LaBelle and Buckingham.

"Oiled rock to Jupiter; narrow rock road for six miles, then 17 miles of graded clay and sand road; balance merely a sand trail through edge of Everglades to the shore of Lake Okechobee. From here a continuation of the winding sand trail up the shore to Okechobee then three miles graded deep sand; poor winding sand-trail from Palmdale; next seven miles poorly graded, deep sand road; balance graded marl road."

Dunn, a former Tampa newspaper editor and Miami television commentator, is editor of the Florida Explorer, a publication which goes to the 425,000 members of the Peninsula Motor Club (AAA).

Dunn is active in historical and preservation circles. He is currently serving as Chairman of the Trustees of the Historic Tampa-Hillsborough County Preservation Board, president of The Friends of the Tampa-Hillsborough County Public Library, and president of the Florida West Coast Professional Chapter of the Professional Journalistic Society Sigma Delta Chi.

He is also editor of the Sunland Tribune, Journal of the Tampa Historical Society, of which he is a founder and past president.

His latest work is "Wish You Were Here - An Antique Post Card Tour of Early Florida." It features turn-of-the-century post card scenes from each of the state's 67 counties, including Hendry County.

Taking care of the lawn

By Gerald Swan
Extension Agent -
Ornamentals
Palm Beach County

Q. What is the best grass to plant in a lawn in South Florida?

Several hundred dollars can be added to the value of your home by the presence of a beautiful lawn. It is worth even more in terms of pleasure and pride it affords all members of the family. On the other hand, it can be a problem if the proper grass is not selected, and maintained.

The best lawn grass, like a beautiful girl, is a matter of personal opinion and preference. There are advantages and disadvantages for every grass. What one person considers an asset may be a liability to another.

In South Florida only Argentine Bahia and St. Augustine grasses are recommended for home turf. There are four varieties of St. Augustine that are generally mentioned, common Bitter Blue, Floratam and a new variety called "Seville." A fast-growing grass may be desired during the first few months the lawn is in, but this apparent advantage turns into a disadvantage when it comes time to mow.

The rate of growth is determined mostly by the amount of Nitrogen fertilizer applied to the lawn. The percentage of nitrogen in a fertilizer is the first number of the analysis. A 12-6-6 would contain 12% nitrogen, this is a high rate of nitrogen and would give you rapid growth.

Color and texture of the leaves are important features of lawn grasses. Some, such as improved bermudagrass which are used on golf courses but extremely expensive to maintain and zoysias are as fine and soft as silk. St. Augustine grass, Bahia grass are more coarse and harsh. In color, lawn grasses range from yellow-green (common St. Augustine) to bluishgreen (Bitter Blue St. Augustine).

Weeds can be controlled in most lawn grasses grown here, if the right chemical is used and if it is applied in correct amounts at the proper time.

While no lawn grass is free of insect and disease pests, some seem to be more susceptible than others. This is clearly brought to your attention if you have ever had Chinch bugs in St. Augustine grass. Sod webworms and armyworms attack all types of lawn grasses grown here. If you closely watch and promptly treat with the proper insecticide or fungicide, disease and insect pests can be controlled.

Like people, grasses have different appetites. St. Augustine will need 3-4 fertilizations yearly, while Bahia is perfectly content with only two.

St. Augustine grass will usually stay green during winter and Bahia will generally turn brown.

If your home is near the ocean and salt spray is a problem, a grass having salt tolerance should be used. St. Augustine has the best tolerance to salt.

Another point to consider when selecting a lawngrass is drought tolerance. Bahiagrass is far superior to the other lawngrasses under dry conditions. Bahia deep and extensive root system allows it to survive weeks without water. St. Augustine will require water once or twice a week to survive.

What is your preference among lawn grasses? It will be your grass, and the choice is up to you. In selecting your lawn grass consider the above points before planting your home grounds.
